Fellow Alumni: THANK YOU!

This special issue of the ALUMNI magazine marks a significant moment in the history of Western Kentucky University – the successful completion of the university's first comprehensive fund raising campaign. Conceived from discussion with the Board of Regents upon my appointment as President in 1997, the Investing in the Spirit campaign has served as a critical cornerstone of the Challenging the Spirit Strategic Plan in the spring of 1998. The five-year campaign was launched on July 1, 1998, with a goal of raising $78 million for the people, places, and programs which define the core elements of the university's strategic plan. The primary purpose of the campaign was to build the university's endowment – specifically to endow at least 25 faculty positions and raise $25 million in new academic scholarships. In so doing, the WKU endowment was targeted to grow from $16 million to $50 million by the campaign's end on June 30, 2003.

The campaign resulted in more than $102 million raised. The endowment has reached $56 million. Twenty-five individual gifts of $1 million or more were secured. Twenty-seven new professorships or chairs are now in place. Thirty million dollars in new scholarship support is at work. Seven million dollars was raised for specific academic programs. Nearly $12 million was raised for athletic enhancements. The annual cash flow in gift deposits has reached $12 million per year, an increase of 300 percent. Membership in the President's Circle, those who give $1,000 or more each year has grown to 1,438 members, an increase of 482 percent. These are the measurable, tangible outcomes.

Equally important in the life of our university are the intangible results. The campaign has given us the confidence that we can be ambitious and be successful. With every new gift announcement, the public – and our campus family – became more aware of and assured by our pursuit of national prominence. With the passing of each milestone in this campaign, the passion and commitment of individuals in the Western family drove the university toward the achievement of its strategic objectives. As each goal was achieved and each round of state matching funds was collected, we further distinguished ourselves among other universities in Kentucky and beyond. This campaign is helping Western to achieve its vision to be the best comprehensive university in Kentucky and among the best in the nation.

It is no coincidence that during the five-year Investing in the Spirit campaign, Western's applicant pool nearly doubled to more than 11,000 candidates for the class entering in the fall of 2003; the university's enrollment swelled from 14,543 to 18,438 during this period of time; the university's budget during this period of time has grown from $130 million to $211 million, a 60 percent increase; support of the university's sponsored programs and activity has gone from $11.5 million when the campaign began to $29,786,235 at the campaign's end; and needed construction has transformed the physical campus with $146 million in projects during this five-year period.

Success feeds on success. A university seeking to transform itself must have multiple initiatives replete with innovation, bold intentions and consistently strong performance. The capital campaign described in this magazine has set the pace for Western Kentucky University over the last five years. I want to personally thank each and every member of the Western family for your personal financial support of Western during this exciting era. Together we have achieved much, but our ambitions for Western are only beginning to take shape. National prominence will not be achieved in a five-year period, but can be achieved with sustained pursuit and performance over many years. That is our commitment. That is what this campaign has launched for our university.

I look forward to sharing with you an exciting adventure at Western for many years to come. Thank you!

Sincerely,

Gary A. Ransdell

3 New Regents Join WKU Board

Western's Board of Regents has three new members.

Forrest Roberts, an Owensboro attorney, was appointed to a six-year term by Gov. Paul Patton this summer. She replaces Beverly Wathen of Owensboro. Roberts has practiced law in Owensboro since 1985 and has served on civic organizations, including the Citizens Committee on Education.

Pat Jordan, an academic adviser in the Gordon Ford College of Business, was elected staff regent in June. She defeated Howard Bailey, dean of Student Life, and will serve a three-year term.

John Bradley, a Paducah junior, is the student representative after being elected president of the Student Government Association for 2003-04.

Forensic Team Makes Unprecedented Sweep

Western's William E. Bivin Forensic Society made history this spring by completing an unprecedented sweep of major speech and debate championships – the National Forensic Association tournament, the American Forensic Association National Individual Events Tournament, the International Forensic Association tournament and the Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha National Tournament.

"To achieve an unparalleled and unprecedented sweep of all three national forensic tournaments and the international championship in a single year is truly amazing," Western President Gary Ransdell said. "This is the most significant evidence yet of Western's push to become a university of national prominence."

"We did something that no other school has done before us," said Judy Woodring, forensic director. "We are only the second team in the nation to have won both NFA and AFA in the same year. Bradley was first. No other team has won Internationals, DSR, AFA and NFA in the same year. History was made."

Horn Returns to Alma Mater as Coach of the NCAA Tournament, has returned to the Hill as the new head coach.

Horn served as an assistant coach at Marquette for four years and helped lead the school to its first NCAA Final Four since 1977. He replaced Dennis Felton, who accepted the head coaching job at Georgia.

"I'm extremely excited to be coming back to Western Kentucky University, which is home for me,"

Darrin Horn, a key member of the last WKU men's basketball team to reach the Sweet 16 said Horn. "I'm looking forward to working with an administration - led by Dr. (Gary) Ransdell and Dr. (Wood) Selig – that is committed to the overall growth of the university as well as the success of the basketball program."

"We are very pleased to welcome home one of the finest student-athletes to ever wear a Western basketball uniform," Athletics Director Wood Selig said. "Just as Darrin distinguished himself on the playing floor, he has quickly established himself as one of the future college coaching stars."

Horn's assistant coaches are Sean Doherty, William Small and Archie Miller.

Campus Safety Task Force

Early Sunday morning, May 4, 2003, 18-year-old WKU freshman Melissa (Katie) Autry was assaulted and severely burned in her Poland Hall room. Ms. Autry died as a result of her injuries at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville, Tenn., on Wednesday, May 7, 2003.

There was an immediate investigation of this incident, led by Chief Robert Deane of the WKU Police Department and assisted by the Bowling Green Police Department, Bowling Green Fire Department, the State Fire Marshal's Office, the Kentucky State Police, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Two suspects were arrested within nine days of the assault and have been indicted by a grand jury.

In the wake of this crime, the Campus Safety Task Force, an independent advisory group, was commissioned to review University policies and procedures, and make recommendations for possible improvement as appropriate.

The Task Force, directed by Mike Littell, Chair of the WKU Parents Advisory Council, included representatives from the WKU Parents Advisory Council, Academic Affairs, Admissions, Alumni Association, Alumni Relations, Housing and Residence Life, Student Affairs and Campus Services, Student Government Association, University Relations, the Bowling Green and WKU Police Departments, and the Bowling Green Fire Department.

By the end of July, they had completed a very thorough evaluation of the WKU campus living environment. The report of their findings can be found on the WKU website at <http://www.wku.edu/safety.html> or copies are available through the University Relations office.

Victory 2003

Since its founding in 1906, Western Kentucky University has been dedicated to providing a quality educational experience for residents of Kentucky, the nation and the world. It boasts a past rich in history, evolving from training school, to teachers' college, to state college, to university. It has incorporated three post-secondary institutions into its academic structure: Ogden College, Potter College and the Bowling Green Business University.

Dr. Gary A. Ransdell took the helm as Western's ninth president in September 1997. His desire was to enhance the Western Spirit by creating a delicate balance between the past and the future. Soon after his inauguration, President Ransdell initiated efforts to chart Western's course for the future. The Challenging the Spirit strategic plan was adopted by Western's Board of Regents in July 1998. This detailed vision, mission and set of commitments focused on strengthening Western's academic reputation and moving Western from a university of regional importance to one of national prominence.

Challenging the Spirit was designed to guide program decisions and direct the allocation of resources well into the 21st century. Collectively, the goals focused institutional energies, contained and embraced the vision of the postsecondary education system in Kentucky, and set the course to guide WKU toward achieving its vision to "be the best comprehensive public institution in Kentucky and among the best in the nation."

Western Kentucky University

People Places Programs

The strategic plan successfully captured the vision of Western Kentucky University. However, substantial private support, particularly in the form of endowment, was necessary to achieve the commitments to which the University is dedicated. Therefore, Western launched Investing in the Spirit: The Campaign for Western Kentucky University, a comprehensive campaign designed to raise private money for endowed scholarships, faculty, university programs and facility improvements. The Campaign focused on those people, places and programs which exemplified the Western Spirit.

The Campaign began on July 1, 1998, and concluded on June 30, 2003. Led by a volunteer-based Campaign Cabinet, the group set a goal of $78 million to acquire needed funds from the private sector to allow Western to excel in scholarship, teaching and service. The Cabinet announced the achievement of the $78 million goal one year early in May 2002 and set a new goal of $90 million. On September 19, 2003, Western celebrated the conclusion of the Campaign with a total of more than $102 million in gifts and pledges.

Victory
Investing in the Spirit
THE CAMPAIGN FOR WESTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY

Alumni Fall 2003

People

As its first and most important goal, the Campaign focused on garnering support for the people – faculty, students and alumni – who keep the Western Spirit alive. A total of $43 million was sought to provide endowments to support our faculty and students, while honoring the traditions and contributions of valued alumni and friends.

Dr. William M. McCormack

Endowed Faculty Positions

A world-class university requires a nationally prominent faculty made up of caring teachers and researchers who prepare motivated students and future leaders. Private support is critical to attract and retain such outstanding scholars. One donor who led the way is Dr. William M. McCormack, a 1957 WKU alumnus, whose $1,500,000 gift is creating three professorships in the sciences.

Dr. McCormack said he wanted to "pay back a little" of that which he received from his long association with Western. Dr. McCormack is a Bowling Green native who has retired from his radiology practices in Owensboro and Illinois.

A portion Dr. McCormack's gifts were matched with funds from the state matching gift program to create three professorships of $1 million each. "My family has had a close association with Western," Dr. McCormack said, including an uncle who served on Western's Board of Regents and is the namesake of McCormack Hall, one of Western's residence halls.

Faculty excellence endowments meet unique and critical needs for WKU faculty

As part of its overall Campaign effort, Western aspired to raise $3 million in support of faculty excellence endowments. According to WKU Provost Barbara Burch, Deans' Funds for Excellence allow individual colleges to recognize high levels of faculty performance and programs that contribute to the continuing quality improvement of curriculum, students and faculty. "These endowment funds allow the individual academic deans to meet specific needs, such as training and development, research support, and travel," she said.

Charlie Shuffield

A model of support for this effort is Charlie Shuffield of Orlando, Fla., who made a commitment of $100,000 over five years to support a number of areas within the University, which includes a total of $50,000 to establish Deans' Funds for Excellence in four of Western's undergraduate colleges.

Shuffield is truly a role model, as his gift's impact will reach across the entire campus. Though he was a business major, he understands the need to provide increased support for all areas of the University. Western began this Campaign with a shortage of flexible funds for deans and academic departments. Donors like Shuffield allow us the ability to reward excellent work and support creative endeavors.

Shuffield, a 1966 alumnus, said, "Western has a diverse student body. I'm an ally of all programs." "It is hard to say one area is more important than any other one. I wanted to represent all people's interests. I believe balance is important, both in a university setting and in our communities."

Faculty/Staff Support

Though Western relied heavily on alumni and friends for its Campaign successes, the Faculty and Staff Campaign provided a total of $3.4 million in support of the five-year effort. One faculty supporter was Katie Ward of Bowling Green, who made a $100,000 gift to establish an endowed professorship in Women's Studies which will be used to bring highly qualified Women's Studies scholars to Western.

Ward established this professorship in honor of her mother, Elizabeth Shields, and her mother's brothers and sisters. When their father lost a leg and an arm in an industrial accident, and their mother died following childbirth, the family members pooled their resources in order to make their way. "I have benefited from the fruits of their collaborative efforts," Ward said. "Now it is time to give something back."

Ward feels that this gift is an appropriate expression of her parents' values. They emphasized the importance of education and community service. "There were two hard and fast rules in our family," she said. "You finished college before you made any significant life

Her brother Paul Coogan, set the example. After high school he worked and helped his younger brothers and sisters obtain their college educations. Later, as an independent businessman, he was active in social and philanthropic causes. Coogan also provided $10,000 in support of the professorship. Alumna Left $3.5 Million To WKU For Scholarships

The story of the Investing in the Spirit Campaign would be incomplete without relaying the story of Mary Hutto. Mary lived a quiet life, and to look at her, one never would have guessed she was a millionaire. But upon her death in April 2001, she left a legacy of $3.5 million that will forever touch countless Kentucky students. The gift is the second largest in Western's history and the second-largest gift designated for scholarships at a Kentucky public university.

"These scholarships will go to good students, students who are leaders in their high schools," said WKU President Gary Ransdell. "We have limited capacity to award academic scholarships and we often run out of scholarship money before we get to many of these students. Mary Hutto has provided a permanent source of scholarship funding for some of these worthy students."

Interest from the endowment will provide $175,000 annually to fund 70 renewable scholarships at $2,500. The scholarships would be for Kentucky students who rank high in their class or score high on the ACT, but don't qualify for a President's or Regents scholarship or an Award of Excellence.

Mary Hutto was born Aug. 6, 1905, in Bowling Green. After graduating from Western Kentucky University in 1927 with a degree in education, she took a teaching job in Florida where she met her husband, H.W. Hutto, a Maytag dealer in Stuart, Fla. He was killed in a car accident in 1953 and Mary Hutto took over the dealership for a short time.

Hutto returned to Bowling Green and managed a boardinghouse owned by her parents. Most of the tenants were Western students. After retirement, and with the onset of physical disabilities, she returned to Florida where she lived until her death on April 9, 2001.

"She had a love for education, a love for Western and a love for Kentucky," Dr. Ransdell said. "She wanted to create a legacy so that young Kentuckians would get a higher education."

"Mary Hutto was always interested in how our classes were going. She saw herself as an adjunct advisor for a very diverse collection of students, and she demanded that we study. . . I'm sure she is happy with the future of her gift. It will help many generations of her boys and girls."

"Bucks For Brains"

Much of the University's rapid progress in establishing new endowed professorships can be attributed to the Commonwealth of Kentucky's innovative Regional University Excellence Trust Fund (Bucks for Brains). This incentive fund was designed to leverage private gifts with a match from the Commonwealth to allow each of Kentucky's six comprehensive universities to strengthen programs for endowed faculty positions and endowed student scholarships.

Cherry Hall, the Colonnade, the Kentucky Building and Diddle Arena are all examples of the places that evoke images and memories from students' days on the Hill. In order for Western to preserve our campus facilities for the enjoyment of future students, these and other buildings and facilities must be carefully maintained and enhanced. The Campaign sought support for both main campus facilities and extended campus facilities.

Raymond and Hattie Preston

Hattie L. Preston Intramural Sports Complex

The Department of Intramural and Recreational Sports at Western opened a new facility during the Campaign, thanks to the second-time generosity of two WKU alumni. Raymond B. and Hattie L. Preston of Henderson, Ky. made a $1 million gift to fund the completion of an intramural sports facility.

The Hattie L. Preston Intramural Sports Complex "complements Western's state-of-the-art Raymond B. Preston Health and Activities Center," said WKU President Gary Ransdell. "The gift brings the support of the Preston family full circle."

The gift was made through the Preston Family Foundation. The Prestons also made a substantial gift in 1990 that helped open the Preston Center. "This gift was 100 percent for students," Dr. Ransdell said. "With the support of the Prestons, the Department of Intramural-Recreational Sports will increase its capacity to provide quality health and wellness programming."

Ray Preston, a 1940 Western graduate and a member of the WKU Board of Advisors, said he and his wife feel a special closeness to the University. "Mrs. Preston and I met on the Hill some 60-plus years ago and, subsequently, were married prior to my graduation," he said. "Because of that, we have always had a very soft spot in our hearts for Western. Western's biggest appeal to us is the family atmosphere that prevails. You feel that you are a part of something that has an aura of permanence about it."

As with the funding for the Health and Activities Center, Preston said this gift was a response to a real need on behalf of the students. "Western is truly a great university with a heart," he said.

The gift funded projects needed to make the complex at Campbell Lane and Industrial Drive fully operational.

"Intramural sports have been a tradition at Western for more than 40 years," said Debby Cherwak, director of Intramural and Recreational Sports. "The program has grown to include more than 20 competitive activities as well as several organized sports clubs, a wide variety of fitness and instructional programs, the Health and Fitness Lab, and the Preston Center."

More than 7,000 students a year participate in intramural activities, she said.

Cherwak says the Preston Complex has elevated the program to a different level. "Students feel honored to play in a facility that is so nice, and they are very appreciative of the facility we have," she said. "We have the best facility of any other university in the state."

WKU Dedicates Guthrie Bell Tower, Celebrates Freedom

The Guthrie Bell Tower, Western's newest landmark, was dedicated in 2002 as a memorial to freedom and those who gave their lives defending it. The 125-foot tower, made possible by a gift from the Lowell Guthrie family and Trace Die Cast, Inc., honors the memory of Guthrie's brother, Sgt. 1st Class Robert Guthrie, who was killed in the Korean War, and all those associated with Western who lost their lives in service to this country.

Speaking on behalf of the Guthrie family, state Sen. Brett Guthrie recalled the supreme sacrifice his uncle made in Korea a half-century ago. "We never knew him, but our parents made sure we never forgot him," he told a crowd that featured Western faculty, staff and students, community leaders, and military veterans.

Guthrie recounted how his uncle grew up in Alabama, became an Eagle Scout and wanted to serve in the military. "My uncle Bobby's sacrifice and those of many others have helped preserve this land of opportunity and the American dream," he said. Granite etchings include images of Robert Guthrie and other veterans associated with Western, including former president Dero Downing, retired professor Bob Ward, Bob Kirby and Wendell Strode.

The Guthrie Bell Tower is not "a war memorial though we must be reminded of war," Brett Guthrie said. "But my uncle died for a cause; he died for freedom and freedom is not free. So we wish this to be viewed as a freedom memorial."

WKU President Gary Ransdell assisted Lowell Guthrie's sons in unveiling a statue of their uncle that stands at the base of the tower and presented the family with a replica of the bells housed in the tower. The granite benches surrounding the bell tower include quotations from several historical figures. Some of the more notable inscriptions include the following:

"The advance of human freedom, the great achievement of our time and the great hope of every time, now depends on us. We will not tire, we will not falter and we will not fail." - George W. Bush, September 20, 2001

"America's strength is its diverse people, just institutions, shared values, and deep and abiding faith in God. No terrorist attack will ever extinguish the flames of freedom and democracy." -

U.S. Senator Mitch McConnell, September 11, 2001.

"The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy." - Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., "Strength to Love"

Campus Beautification an Important Goal for Campaign

Western Kentucky University has a tradition and reputation for excellence in presenting an extremely attractive campus. High levels of maintenance and attention to plantings and campus cleanliness all contribute to the overall effort towards a beautiful campus environment. Within the Investing in the Spirit Campaign, beautification projects helped move us toward our ultimate goal of restoring the historic beauty of the campus.

In support of this goal, Western partnered with several individuals and organizations to improve the physical appearance of the campus and return it to the park-like atmosphere enjoyed throughout its history. Some of these gifts include:

- A $100,000 commitment by Sodexo Campus Services to support beautification efforts of the campus landscape of Western. These projects will include Alumni Drive enhancements, the Faculty House, and South Lawn improvements.

- A $100,000 gift from a confidential donor for campus beautification projects. The first project funded by this fund will include the restoration and protection of the Four Season statues formerly located in the Italian Garden near Snell Hall.

- A $60,000 commitment from Alliance Corporation and Tommy and Tish Gumm to repair and enhance the overlook adjacent to the historic Van Meter Hall.

Western announces the Investing in the Spirit Campaign total of $102 million!

Programs

Western is fortunate to possess a number of outstanding programs, which have state-wide and national recognition, and a total of $18.5 million was sought through the Investing in the Spirit Campaign to make these areas stronger than ever before.

The Campaign story would again be incomplete without the story of Gordon and Glenda Ford, whose support for the business programs gave the Campaign a tremendous boost. In the early stages of the Campaign, WKU staff and volunteers were rather tentative about the ambitious goal of $78 million, but Gordon and Glenda Ford led the way early in the game when they made a commitment of more than $10.6 million. In recognition of this outstanding gift, WKU's Board of Regents named the University's business college in honor of Gordon Ford.

This gift, the largest ever received by the University from a single donor, was transformational for Western, the community, and the region. The pledge included $9.5 million in unrestricted funds in the Gordon Ford Dean's Fund for Excellence. In addition, $500,000 -- combined with a $500,000 match from the Commonwealth of Kentucky -- created the Mattie Newman Ford Professorship in Entrepreneurial Studies, named in honor of Gordon Ford's mother. Ford will also continue to fund a scholarship program for accounting and business majors that he began in 1992, bringing the total commitment to $10.6 million.

Ford said he chose to make this gift because he has "been interested in education for many years, believing that education is the hope of the world."

President Ransdell credits Gordon and Glenda Ford with setting the pace for a successful Campaign. "The Fords'

Gordon and Glenda Ford

magnificent lead gift instilled in the campus the belief that Western can be ambitious and be successful," he said. "Western is forever in their debt."

Ford's family has had a connection with Western for more than 90 years. His mother attended Western from 1907-09, just after it moved to its present location on the "Hill" in 1906, and received a teaching certificate. Ford came to Bowling Green in 1931, graduating from Bowling Green Business University in 1934. BU merged with Western in 1963 to become the Bowling Green College of Business Administration.

He has numerous ties with education, including giving 10 or more scholarships a year for worthy students at Western since 1992.

A native of Greenville, Ky., Ford was a founding partner in the accounting firm of Yeager, Ford and Warren in Louisville. That firm merged with the firm of Coopers & Lybrand, which later merged with Price Waterhouse. He is a retired partner of Pricewaterhouse Coopers and lives in Louisville, Ky., and Village of Golf, Fla.

More than $5 million in private gifts support Western's Engineering program

One of the major programmatic achievements during the Campaign related to Western's Engineering program. In 2001, the Council on Postsecondary Education approved an agreement under which joint engineering programs between WKU and the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville will be offered. The new bachelor's degree program was first offered in the fall of 2001. By the end of this Campaign in 2003, Western enjoyed some 300 students in these three new engineering programs.

For several years, Western has been working with state, education, legislative and industrial officials on a plan to offer baccalaureate degrees in engineering. As a result, the CPE approved a Strategy for Statewide Engineering in Kentucky that addressed two primary areas:

Victory 2003

- The need to increase the number of baccalaureate engineers in Kentucky.
- The need to address regional issues of access and productivity in engineering education.

Graduates of the WKU program will be eligible for registration (certification) as professional engineers in Kentucky.

This new program would not have been possible without the leadership professional and financial support of a number of individuals and corporations in the south central Kentucky area. In the last five years, Western has received more than $5 million in private and matching funding to support the transition of its engineering program.

That total includes $4.25 million in four gifts, pledges and matches from the state's Regional University Excellence Trust Fund to create four endowed professorships for the Engineering Department. These include:

- $2 million from Jim and Rita Scott of Bowling Green for the civil engineering program ($1 million state match).
- $1 million from Bud and Jana Layne of Glasgow for mechanical engineering ($500,000 state match).

Bud Layne

- $1 million from a confidential donor for engineering ($500,000 state match).
- $250,000 from Bill and Joyce Bell of Lexington for construction and civil engineering ($125,000 state match).

Dr. Ransdell said the private funding gave the program the "legs needed to hit the ground running. These funds are the impetus to make these programs possible. We have been able to purchase the equipment needed to make the transition to the baccalaureate program as well as strengthen the capacity of the faculty positions needed.

Gifted Studies

The Investing in the Spirit Campaign also provided support for The Center for Gifted Studies. One of these gifts came from Pete and Dixie Mahurin of Bowling Green whose leadership gift created The Center's first endowed professorship. According to Center Director Julia Roberts, the Mahurin Endowed Professorship in Gifted Studies will enhance the visibility of The Center for Gifted Studies, and it will ensure that The Center for Gifted Studies will continue its quality work for generations to come. "The professorship will enhance the capacity of The Center by providing support for research and professional development focused on gifted education," Roberts said. "It will make it possible to bring experts for consultation for research and to conduct seminars."

Pete, Sarah Jo and Dixie Mahurin

Dixie Mahurin states, "The investment we have made in children is certainly the best use of our money. We expect this investment to have a great return."

"This gift certainly furthers us in reaching our vision to become an internationally preeminent center," Roberts said. "Few universities in the country have an endowed professorship in gifted education."

Ties between the Mahurin family and The Center for Gifted Studies are numerous and have continued over many years. Pete serves as a member of the Advisory Board for The Center for Gifted Studies. Daughter Sarah Jo Mahurin, niece Amber Cann Sapp and nephew John Michael Mahurin have participated in various programs provided by The Center, and both Amber and Sarah Jo have been counselors for the summer residential programming offered by The Center.

Other Innovative Programs at WKU

The Campaign has also supported new and exciting programs for Western. One such program was the Kelly Autism Project, which was made possible through a three-year gift of $150,000 for initial funding by John and Linda Kelly of Bowling Green, a couple whose daughter has been diagnosed with autism.

Tom Hiles, WKU Vice President for Institutional Advancement said, "We are grateful and excited that the Kellys are utilizing Western's expertise and relationships to partner with the community and the schools to improve the lives of young people with autism."

Linda and John Kelly

The Kellys say they are impressed by the leadership WKU has shown through this project and are pleased to provide the initial seed money for the program. "Autism is affecting more and more of our population," John Kelly said. "As our children grow into adulthood, the challenge is in how to create transition programs that support the needs and desires of the individual, and have value to the community as well. Western Kentucky University is committing the people, resources, and infrastructure to develop the programs that will help these citizens meet their potential."

"WKU becomes the umbrella institution," he concluded. "They will be developing transition programs in coordination with the school systems and other support organizations in the community, assisting our autistic children in developing self-esteem and interests that can have value in the community."

In addition, Western partnered with the Jessie Ball duPont Fund in a project to serve the educational needs of Bowling Green/Warren County's growing international population.

The Jessie Ball duPont Fund awarded the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences a $112,000 grant to provide tuition and additional assistance for 16 parents of immigrant families who would enroll in and complete an associate of arts degree in Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education.

Program benefits will include a higher level of employment status and increased financial resources for the parents and excellent paraprofessionals for the city and county schools who would come with strong language skills in their native language and in English as well as ability in working with children.

"Western Kentucky made a very strong proposal and we were delighted to fund it," said Sharon Greene, the Fund's senior program officer for education. The program will provide tuition for the associate degree program and also help these parents become fluent in English and earn their high school GEDs if needed. Parents who complete the associate degree could elect to continue in a bachelor's degree in Early Childhood on a full-time or part-time basis in the future.

Western's proposal addresses community needs for more ESL teachers and benefits the University, local school systems, children and the immigrant population, Greene said, adding it could become a model for other communities nationwide. "For our grants to higher education institutions, the fund looks for an outreach component," she said. "We want universities to be responsive to the needs of the community. We feel that institutions of higher education have a wealth of knowledge and information they can share to benefit their communities."

Bowling Green, like other similar-sized cities, has seen its international population grow in recent years, Greene said. A growing international community has produced 479 non-English speaking students (14 percent) in Bowling Green city schools and 459 non-English speaking students (4.3 percent) in Warren County schools.

"I believe that funds should be spent for the benefit of society. I have always believed it. Don't call it charity... I think it is an obligation."

Investing in the Spirit
THE CAMPAIGN FOR WESTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY

President Gary A. Ransdell

THE LEGACY OF THE CAMPAIGN

The official Campaign total is $102 million. Of that amount, 74 percent of the gifts will be received through cash and pledges of up to five years, with only 26 percent being made through estate and deferred commitments. Many of these gifts have been added to the University's endowment, so the funds will be permanent, providing lasting spending power to the University for perpetuity.

The Investing in the Spirit Campaign has been about more than just dollars raised. Thanks to the hard work of our volunteers, the Campaign will have a lasting legacy on the campus.

During the past five years, WKU has:

- Increased annual cash deposits from $3 million to more than $12 million
- Funded 27 new endowed professorships in important academic disciplines, ranging from music, to business, to engineering
- Created 81 new endowed scholarships in the WKU Foundation and the College Heights Foundation
- More than doubled the overall endowment from $24 million to $56 million

With continued support and an increased endowment, Western will have the ability to attract and retain quality faculty and students for many generations.

In 1998, a journey started to transform Western through the Investing in the Spirit Campaign. Thousands of individuals stepped forward. Each gift left a legacy and a mark on the Western Experience. Each donor has made a lasting impact on the life of the University and people who will one day be alumni of Western.

Western has changed dramatically since the start of this campaign. From renovations of 10 residence halls and Diddle Arena to the new Mass Media and Technology Hall, the campus has been transformed. WKU now enjoys Internet cafes, digital television and online courses. Western now competes for national championships in our athletic programs. WKU is achieving its vision to be the best comprehensive university in Kentucky and among the best in the nation.

But for all our external improvements, Western Kentucky University is still about people making a difference. "To each of you who has invested in the spirit, we say thank you," said President Ransdell. "Your legacy has been passed on to future generations who are certain to live up to your expectations.

"The Spirit does indeed make the Master and you have breathed Life, More Life into the Western Spirit."

Ryan, Dick and Janet Frockt

WKU Receives Gift for History Professorship

• Western Kentucky University has received a $1 million gift commitment from Dick Frockt, a Las Vegas, Nev., alumnus; his wife, Janet; and his son, Ryan, who is a student at WKU.

• This gift will create the Richard Frockt Family Professorship in History in the Potter College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. The $500,000 gift will be matched by the Commonwealth of Kentucky's Regional Excellence Trust Fund.

"I have chosen to make this gift to Western to both show my appreciation for what the University has done for me and to help future students find success as well."

Dick Frockt

"This generous gift represents a strong commitment to academic priorities of Western and to the general education curriculum which is pursued by all students at Western."

Dr. David Lee
dean of the Potter College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences

"We are pleased that members of the Western family helped prepare Dick for his success, and we are grateful that he and his wife have chosen to give back to the University in such a generous way. The addition of the Frockt Family Professorship in History will touch countless students like Dick for many years to come."

Dr. Gary A. Ransdell
President, WKU

Western Receives $1 Million for Education Program and Academic Athletic Performance Center

• Western Kentucky University has received a $750,000 commitment from a donor who wishes to remain confidential. Additionally, $250,000 will be provided through the Commonwealth of Kentucky's Regional University Excellence Trust Fund.

• The gift will provide $500,000 in support of the academic advising portion of the new Academic Athletic Performance Center, and it will offer $250,000 to create a visiting professorship.

"The purpose of the visiting professorship is to recognize the contributions that teachers have and continue to make to the lives of so many individuals by giving something back that will contribute to their professional growth and development."

Dr. Sam Evans

Dean, College of Education and Behavioral Sciences.

"The academic support staff is excited about having a stand-alone center devoted primarily to academic excellence," she said. "The Academic Athletic Performance Center will place an emphasis on excellence in school work. Students will benefit from this facility for years down the road."

Dixie Mahurin

Coordinator, Academic Support for Athletics

Cupola Society

The objective of the Cupola Society is to recognize long-term donors, no matter the size of the gift and bring distinction to those individuals who support Western Kentucky University through sustained annual giving.

The name Cupola Society was chosen for its recognition, its meaning and its importance. The cupola is recognized as an important symbol of Western Kentucky University. This symbol is not only representative of the university's past (Cherry Hall), but it is also representative of Western's future (Guthrie Tower). The cupola in use belies several symbols useful in education. As simply a vaulted roof structure on a building, a cupola draws attention to the structure, just as Cherry Hall draws attention as the symbol of the educational opportunity presented by Western Kentucky University. Cupolas are often used as a means to emit air or light, much as a university offers the oxygen of knowledge and the brightness of opportunity. The cupola as a type of blast furnace is used for the re-melting of metals before casting. Education is simply the re-melting of a base of knowledge and the casting of that knowledge into a greater instrument for a person's future. The cupola, past, present, and future, is the perfect symbol for the importance of continuity in support of Western Kentucky University.

The Cupola Society seeks to first recognize donors upon their second consecutive year of making a gift to Western Kentucky University and continue recognition for their consecutive years of giving throughout their lifetime. Specific recognition will exist within publications and through other means such as gifts and events. Some specifics include:

Humana Foundation Creates Visiting Professorship in Memory of Co-Founder Wendell Cherry

• A $250,000 gift from The Humana Foundation of Louisville, Ky. will create the Wendell Cherry Visiting Professorship in Business Leadership and Ethics in memory of Wendell Cherry, the co-founder of Humana Inc., who spent 30 years as the company's president and chief operating officer. This gift will be matched by $250,000 from the Commonwealth of Kentucky's Regional University Excellence Trust Fund to create a total professorship fund of $500,000.

"Wendell Cherry was a near neighbor to WKU growing up in Horse Cave, Ky. where he played basketball for a Caverna team that reached the semifinals of the 1953 state tournament. His parents instilled in him the work ethic, sense of purpose and bedrock integrity with which he lived his life. He was a consummate entrepreneur whose life proved that ethical behavior is an essential element of a truly successful enterprise."

David A. Jones
 Chairman, Humana Inc. and The Humana Foundation

Owensboro Mercy Health System supports Nursing scholarships at WKU

President Gary Ransdell thanks Owensboro Mercy Hospital for their gift during a Rooster Booster breakfast.

• Owensboro Mercy Health System has made a gift of $65,000 this year, annually renewable for up to five years for a total of $325,000 if renewed, to support 10 Nursing scholarships for students who agree to return to the hospital to work upon their graduations.

• According to Vicki Stogsdill, Owensboro Mercy's senior vice president of operations, the scholarships will be awarded to students who possess qualities that reflect the core commitments of OMHS, which are integrity, teamwork, innovation, respect, service and excellence.

"We are pleased that OCH, Inc. has approved the nursing scholarships for Western Kentucky University, because of the quality of the program and the success that past graduates have had at OMHS. The scholarships will support nursing students from our region which will help to alleviate the nursing shortage and expand the program at Western."

Vicki Stogsdill
senior vice president of operations, Owensboro Mercy

"This is an excellent and innovative example of how a public university can work with private support to meet the needs of our region. These scholarships help students by enabling deserving men and women to pursue careers in nursing. They also assist the community by helping fill a void in the marketplace and keeping our graduates employed in this region."

President, WKU

Greenview Regional Hospital Makes Significant Gift to WKU Nursing Program

• Greenview Regional Hospital has made a commitment of $475,000 to train and place nurses in the area.

• This gift will provide $120,000 for nursing scholarships, $255,000 for unrestricted programmatic funds for nursing, and $100,000 to create the Greenview Regional Hospital Endowed Fund for Excellence in Nursing. The final $100,000 of the gift will be matched with an additional $100,000 from the Commonwealth of Kentucky's Regional University Excellence Trust Fund.

• According to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, there will be a deficit of more than 1 million nurses nationally by the year 2010 due to an aging population and technological advances. This gift is specifically structured to help meet this concern.

"Through this contribution, Greenview is making a commitment to Western's Nursing Program and to our community's workforce. We are excited about the opportunity to work with Western through this scholarship program and look forward to a longstanding relationship with Western."

Brenda M. Waltz, FACHE
CEO, Greenview Regional Hospital

Hall of Distinguished Alumni

Three new members will be inducted into Western Kentucky University's Hall of Distinguished Alumni during Homecoming this fall.

The three - longtime football coach Jimmy Feix, former journalism department head David B. Whitaker and cancer researcher Dr. Dorris Hutchison - will comprise the 12th class of noted alumni. They will be inducted during a formal luncheon on Friday, October 31 at 11:30 a.m. at the Sloan Convention Center.

For ticket information, contact the WKU Alumni Association at 1-888-WKU-ALUM.

A Henderson native, James W. Feix has been a fixture at Western since arriving on the Hill in 1949. He has been an athlete, administrator, alumni director and ambassador for the University.

As a quarterback, he became the first Hilltopper ever honored as an All-American in football in 1952. He was named to the All-Ohio Valley Conference team in 1951 and 1952 and was named to the conference's all-time team in 1988.

As a senior in 1952, Feix guided the Toppers to the school's first OVC football championship with a 9-1 record and the school's first bowl game appearance (a 34-19 win over Arkansas State in the Refrigerator Bowl at Evansville, Ind.).

That season Feix led the nation's college quarterbacks with a 63.1 percent completion percentage, completing 111 of 176 passes for 1,581 yards and 15 touchdowns. He was drafted by the NFL's New York Giants, but an injury in the 1953 preseason forced him to give up football and led to a four-year stint in the Air Force.

Feix, who returned to the Hill as an assistant football coach in 1957, served as head coach from 1968-83 and is the winningest football coach in WKU history. His teams went 106-56-6, won or shared six OVC championships and were national runners-up in NCAA Division II in 1973 and 1975. Feix was named OVC coach of the year in 1973, 1978 and 1980.

He retired from coaching after the 1983 season and spent two years in Alumni Affairs before taking over as athletic director from 1986-91. Feix is a charter member of the WKU Athletic Hall of Fame and the field at L.T. Smith Stadium was named in his honor in 1991.

Feix and his wife, Frankie, live in Bowling Green and have two children, Jimmy and Jeff.

Dorris Hutchison

Dr. Dorris J. Hutchison, a 1940 honor graduate, has had a distinguished career as a scientist and medical researcher at the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York and as a professor at Cornell University.

A native of Carrsville in Livingston County, Hutchison served as a lab assistant for Dr. L.Y. Lancaster while completing her undergraduate degree at Western. She received her master's degree at the University of Kentucky in 1943 and her doctorate at Rutgers University in 1949.

She also has held positions at Russell Sage College in Troy, N.Y., Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and Wellesley College in Wellesley, Mass.

A microbiologist and educator, Hutchison began her career at the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in 1951 and held several faculty positions at the Sloan-Kettering Division, Graduate School of Medical Sciences at Cornell, including associate dean from 1978-87.

She has written more than 130 publications dealing with chemotherapy, treatment of tuberculosis and leukemia, and other cancer-related topics.

She is included in "Who's Who in America," "American Men and Women of Science" and "Who's Who of American Women." She was the L.Y. Lancaster lecturer at Western Kentucky University in 1988 and has been president of the New York Society of Kentucky Women since 1988.

Other awards and honors include the Bronze Medal Award from the American Cancer Society, Westchester Division, in 1984; Philippe Foundation Fellowship in 1959; and Vassar College Faculty Fellowship in 1946.

Her accomplishments were recognized in the form of the Dr. Dorris J. Hutchison Graduate Fellowship at the Graduate School of Medical Science at Cornell University.

Hutchison is single and lives in Bronxville, N.Y.

Known as "Boss," David Bickers Whitaker laid the foundation for Western's professional and nationally recognized journalism program.

Whitaker was head of the journalism department from its inception in 1977 until his retirement from the position in 1987 and was director of Student Publications (College Heights Herald and Talisman) from 1970 to 1987.

Whitaker, a Jefferson County native, came to the Hill in 1941 and was majoring in English and economics when World War II interrupted his education. He served as Herald editor in the 1942-43 school year and again in 1947-48 after returning from active duty with the U.S. Marine Corps. (He later served again in the Korean War.)

Whitaker began his newspaper career as editor of the Daily Kentuckian. He then went to work for the Daily News where he served as city editor from 1948-51.

David Whitaker

In 1953, Whitaker became a sports writer for The Courier-Journal in Louisville and worked in the sports department for 12 years. In 1965, he moved to The Louisville Times as a copy editor.

Whitaker returned to the Hill in 1970 as associate professor of journalism and director of Student Publications. When the journalism department was created in 1977, Whitaker's vision was a professional program with real-world applications and national accreditation.

Whitaker, who received his bachelor's (1948) and master's (1949) from Western, was named outstanding WKU professor in 1978 by Phi Eta Sigma and was inducted into the Kentucky Journalism Hall of Fame in 1986.

Whitaker and his wife, Kay, who died in 1982, have three children, Jane, Julie and David.

Make a difference in a student's life. Make a difference in yours.

In 1982, Dr. Tate C. Page and his wife, Wanda Mayfield Page, created scholarship funds that are now known as the Page Family Scholarship Fund. Rachel Hamilton, a junior from Hillsboro, Ohio, is the recipient of the scholarship. Recently, Mrs. Page created a Charitable Remainder Unitrust (CRUT) to enhance the fund. Her decision to make this planned gift to WKU has three important benefits: provides scholarships for Rachel and other students pursuing degrees at Western, pays tribute to the Page family and, allows Mrs. Page to receive income throughout her lifetime.

To learn more about making a scholarship gift or creating a CRUT or another planned gift, contact John Paul Blair or Alex Downing in our Planned Giving office at 1-888-WKU-ALUM.

"This scholarship has enabled me to get the education that I need to become an elementary teacher. Thank you, Mrs. Page, for your generosity and support."

Family Scholarship*
